Aims of the Conference

The ICOR promotes the exchange of experiences about applications of OR and computing issues for the management of big data analysis for the sustainable socio-economic development and human welfare. We foster contributions on theoretical results on mathematical methods, management of big data and business intelligence related to human health, environment and regional development. Experiences on OR education, for strengthening capabilities in the application and cross-fertilization between different topics of the conference, are welcome.

We invite researchers to organize special sessions devoted to one specific topics or to the application of different approaches to a particular problem.

The Conference covers contributions on:

- Artificial Intelligence
- Bioinformatics
- Biomathematics
- Business Intelligence
- Big Data
- Management Sciences
